Linen Experience

Buying linens like buying laces or jewels requires special knowledge. Our linen buyer has it for he has been schooled in a linen department that has existed so long the oldest inhabitant can no more than remember its beginning fifty-nine years ago. How well linen experience has provided for this sale you can only judge by a visit to our store. Such a visit will repay you a hundred fold. Come in today.

BED LINENS.

ONLY ONE "BEST!"

Maysville People Give Credit Where Credit is Due

People of Maysville who suffer with sick kidneys and bad backs want a kidney remedy that can be depended upon. The best is Doan's Kidney Pills, a medicine for the kidneys only, made from pure roots and herbs, and the only one that is backed by cures in Maysville. Here's Maysville testimony.

Mrs. Elmer Bridges, 206 West Third street, Maysville, Ky., says:

"I consider Doan's Kidney Pills to be an excellent kidney remedy and one that deserves a trial by anyone afflicted with disordered kidneys. I was subject to attacks of kidney complaint from childhood, and as I grew older the trouble became more severe. In my efforts to find relief I tried remedy after remedy, but no benefit was obtained until I began using Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at J. J. Wood & Son's Drugstore. They proved to be just what I needed, going directly to the seat of my trouble and entirely relieving me. I always keep a supply of Doan's Kidney Pills on hand in case I have a return of the complaint."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Lieutenant Governor WILLIAM H. COX of Maysville.

THE PUBLIC LEDGER can't quite get it through its head just why the City Council has forgotten Forest avenue in its 1911 concrete sidewalk estimates. We want to emphasize the fact that it is not merely because The Ledgerman owns property in Forest avenue that he wants the viaduct built and the avenue beautified.

That's not it at all.

Why cannot the Council and the citizens of Maysville generally understand that it is through this thoroughfare only that Maysville, on both sides of Limestone creek, can ever hope to develop as it should?

And another thing: Could any one imagine a more disgusting and a more uninviting view than that presented by the so-called "Second Street Extension" from McMILLAN'S new shop East to the Limestone bridge?

Look at it good, ladies and gentlemen, every time you go up and down, and then ask yourselves if Maysville, with her fine homes, Churches, school buildings and her growing interests generally in this boosting year 1911, should permit such horrible and dirty conditions?

This section is Maysville's public dumping ground, where all the trash, brush and back-yard offal of 5,000 people is daily deposited.

As we have said many times before in these columns, this is the twentieth century, and refined and progressive people do not countenance and endure such a state of affairs as exists in many sections of Maysville.

The very ugliest buildings in our city today are the gabled monstrosities and tottering shacks on the "Second Street Extension," also, right on the West side of Market street fronting the Esplanade, right in the very heart of our city.

For decency's sake we should do something to abate these nuisances and the conditions which are the daily eyesore not only to ourselves, but to the strangers in our city and thousands of others who look out from the coaches of the dozen passenger trains on the C. and O. that pass nearly over this "stinking Second Street Extension" every day.

It is well known that our civic deformities are overlooked just because we see them so much that we finally get accustomed to them, but the stranger who comes to town, mayhap with a view to locating, sees them at once in their proper light and they appeal to him strongly to get out of such a city.

We are now on the threshold of a new era for Maysville, and the manufacturing stranger is to be invited here and welcomed as a permanent resident. We have the location, the facilities, the wealth and all that goes with a city to hold out winning inducements for men of means and enterprise to come to Maysville and grow up with us and share our prosperity. Men do not want to locate near a reeking dump, with its foul miasmas filling the air with many varieties of disease germs.

The first crying need of Maysville is for the City Council, the Business Men's Club and the public to unite in abating the unsightly and ungodly conditions in and along the "Second Street Extension" and construct a thoroughfare to connect Second Street with Forest avenue.

After looking over the ground it is easily seen that the most feasible plan, and the only one to pursue, is to let the proposed viaduct begin at the East end of the Second Street Extension, in Bridge street, and, with only a slight curve, cross the bottom to Forest avenue. This plan would give a continuous driveway along Second street to Forest avenue, and at the same time there could also be an approach to the viaduct from Bridge street, just North of Third street and the L. and N. Depot.

Get busy, gentlemen. There is much work to be done and good weather to work is almost here. Now is the time to plan all the preliminaries.

It is healthier to be a booster than it is to be a croaker and a knocker. Come on in and join the great movement to put Maysville right up to the front.

Of the two kinds of citizens in every town, the leaders and the laggards, which are you? Would you rather be dragged along by the leaders or march in the progressive procession with the booster crowd?

GREAT MEETING

Educational Rally For Mason County at High School Intelligent and Classy Event

Addresses By Prominent Citizens and Educators Give New Life to Cause

The Mason County Educational Rally at the Maysville High School Building Saturday, February 11th, was called to order at 10:30 a. m. by Superintendent Jessie Yancey with probably the largest audience that has ever assembled in the county under similar circumstances to hear discussed by specialists in their sphere the various modern problems of education.

The next number on the program was a song by six girls from Orangeburg, who were accompanied by Mrs. Dr. Bane, and all certainly acquitted themselves in a way that would have been creditable to professionals.

The Welcome Address of our own Judge Rhee was the right thing said in the right place at the right time with a right heart to back it. His address we give below:

It certainly does not require a lengthy speech from me to assure the distinguished visitors of the day that they are most welcome to our county and city. Indeed, I hope you will not measure your welcome by these few remarks of mine, but rather by our hand-clasp and hearty greeting. I am sure that all of you have been required to make some sacrifice in order to visit us today, and you have been willing to do so because of your interest and enthusiasm for the great cause of education and the improvement of our school conditions.

You have responded most cheerfully and willingly to our County Superintendent's invitation to attend this rally. On behalf of the citizenship of this county I assure you that we most sincerely and heartily appreciate your coming.

I am also glad to see our School Board and so many of our teachers present which, indicates that they are wide awake and are looking to you for a new inspiration. We want your ideas, we want your suggestions, we want to improve our schools, for we are on the dawn of a new era in the educational advancement of Kentucky. Our old system of Public Schools has been weighed in the balance and found wanting.

It is no longer a disputed fact that the commercial and industrial success of any county, State or Nation is in direct proportion to the amount of money spent in the education of the children, for the universal verdict of all history is that man's power as a wealth producer is multiplied in direct proportion to his education and training. It is a significant fact that Japan spends four times as much per capita for education than Russia.

There may be many theories to account for Japan's success in the recent conflict, but this is the secret in a nutshell.

The battles of a Nation are fought in the schoolroom. The American schools vanquished Spanish ignorance in 1898. So it will be in future contests. It matters not what may be the nature of the contest, whether it be one of war, business or politics, the training for it will be done in the schoolroom.

To the Superintendent and School Board I would say, "Don't get discouraged if everything don't work together smoothly, for history teaches us that in all new eras there are old fogies, who are sometimes called pessimists or critics, to contend with, and either of them are stuck full of eyes and many ears and they have ready tongues."

It was supposed by the men who framed the new school law, the instrument which another has said was the greatest instrument coming at one time from the brain of man; that the School Board will be a conservative body, composed of honest, intelligent and courageous men; that if a storm of passion or clamor should sweep over the country caused by these pessimists or critics wanting new schoolhouses here and Districts there, threatening the destruction of our new school system; that if hysteria of any unreasoning character should seek to divert individuals from the true course upon which our school law was established, then you would follow a course dictated by wisdom and rescue the schools from impending danger. But if you, the School Board, should once yield to the clamorous demand of the old fogey pessimists or critics and allow our new school system to become a victim of a hysterical crusade against it, then will we have entered without chart or compass upon a sea of trouble, shoreless and bottomless.

If the School Board falters in the discharge of its duty in this case, as I believe they understand it, then the words that Byron placed in the mouth of Eve in administering cure upon Cain would be just if pronounced against them. "May the grass wither from thy feet, the woods deny thee shelter, earth a home, the dust a grave, the sun his light and heaven her God."

Every Kentuckian should be proud of the rapid strides our State has made educationally in the last few years.

We have been aroused from our slumber and a new spirit has taken hold of us. Kentucky with her great natural resources and a people in whose veins flows the purest Anglo-Saxon blood should in the future as in the past take front rank in the life of the Nation. Again, visitors, I bid you welcome for if you had not known Mason county, indeed, it would have been unlucky, for she is gallant, she is brave, she is the oasis of Kentucky.

The words of Prof. Squires of Carlisle, who responded to Judge Rice's welcome, were the words of a scholar.

Miss Yancey, who presided at the meeting with becoming dignity and ability, next introduced Prof. Coates, late Superintendent of Schools of Richmond, Ky., now Kentucky's Supervisor and Visitor of Rural Schools, who discussed the problem from the economic and commercial view point and said: "The greatest duty of any generation was to prepare the coming generation for the fullest and completest living." The term 'school tax,' he declared, was a misnomer, as there was no such thing as a 'school tax,' but it is an investment, and the most desirable and profitable ever made by any individual, city, county, State or Nation. That money invested on books, stocks, bonds, railroads, houses, lands, etc., was not comparable to the same amount judiciously invested in the boys and girls of the land.

A condition that attracts the best citizenship of the country to town and city is one that is a menace to all alike, as agriculture is the most important industry and the one upon which all others are dependent; it needs for its greatest success the greatest intelligence, industry and in fact the very best that goes to make the ideal citizen. But the facts are that on account of poor roads, poor schools, facilities, and other minor causes, the very best families in many localities are leaving the farms for the already crowded towns and cities by the wholesale. The best good of city and country demands that these conditions be changed and that the causes which produce them shall be remedied. The country child is entitled to all the privileges and opportunities of the child, and that the very best is not too good for either. Everything else being equal, the place to educate a child is in the country. He made a very strong plea for school consolidation as the only solution, he thinks the unsanitary, uneconomic and in every way unsatisfactory one room school house must go. Its relation to the educational problem is about what the cart is to the problem of transportation, and its usefulness as compared with the modern, up-to-the-minute city school building is about the same as the sled is to the automobile.

They cannot get and keep competent teachers. The teachers of these schools belong almost without exception to one of the following classes: Young men who are using it as a stepping stone, young ladies who are waiting to get married, or persons who have made a failure of teaching or of some other business.

After a song by six girls from Orangeburg, "The Fight Is On," which was as thoroughly enjoyed as their first number on the program, the meeting was adjourned to convene at 1:30 p. m.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

At the afternoon session Miss Hanselman's solo was very fine and much appreciated and heartily enjoyed.

Miss Hamilton of Flemingsburg was then introduced and discussed "The Cultivation of the Five Senses," and made a very earnest and fervent plea that such attention be given to the child's seeing, hearing and feelings that he may reasonably be expected to live in the fullest meaning of the word. As an illustration of the possibilities of the plastic mind of the child under the guidance and direction of a competent, sympathetic, faithful teacher she read a number of selections from the writings of that marvel of the age, Helen Keller. These selections were indication of the profound thinking and consummate skill in expression of one who, though blind and deaf, on account of her teacher, is what she is.

The piano solo by Mrs. Norris was an inspiration.

Next came that prince of good fellows Prof. R. N. Eubanks, Editor of The Southern School Journal, Institute Instructor and a round friend of things educational, who, notwithstanding the fact that he said those who had preceded him on the program had stolen his thunder and made his speech, still gave a very practical and helpful talk.

While he believes in consolidation where it is possible and practicable he believes we shall have the one room schools with us in some localities for some time yet to come. And he insists that as long as we do have it, that we use every endeavor to have them just as good as is possible. His plea for a supply of pure water for every school was strong and earnest. He said to consider it from the very lowest standpoint the Doctor's bill for case of typhoid would be sufficient to secure a pure water supply for almost any school, and in case of one death from the same cause the Undertaker's bill would be enough to keep such supply in good condition for ten years.

He believes that every school house should have a well ventilated, sanitary receptacle for school lunches.

His word picture of the germ-infected lunch under ordinary circumstances was so graphic that the imagination of his hearers constrained to think, if not to say, (with apologies to Galileo) that the "lunch does move."

Prof. J. W. Bradner was presented to the meeting by Superintendent Yancey, and on account of the length of the program and the lateness of the hour he would not ask them to listen to the speech which he had prepared for the occasion, but in well chosen and appropriate words he assured the country visitors that Maysville's school people and the entire citizenship were a part of the county and that they fully realized that their interests were identical with the interests of the county out side of Maysville, and all were very anxious that every boy and girl in the county should have the very best opportunities to develop into noble manhood and womanhood.

Prof. Squires indulged in a few pleasantries, not forgetting to herald the praises of one of his faithful teachers of the past, Prof. Coates, now of Paris, Ky.

The first prize for the school having the greatest number of persons present was awarded to the Oklahoma School, as it had 53 representatives present. Lewisburg and Minerva tied for second prize, with each 41 present.

The meeting adjourned, and in the belt of her who has so wisely planned and executed hangs another added seal.

NOTES.

The announcement by Miss Yancey that she was in receipt of a communication from Prof. Crabbe, expressing his regrets that on account of sickness it would be impossible to be present, was received with disappointment and deep regrets from all present.

Prof. Eubanks believes that the most important matter in the problem of education is that the child may be enabled to find itself.

Prof. Bradner believes it would be unfortunate if the very many good things that were said were to be lost on account of the failure of the hearers "to do."

The out-of-town visitors who were entertained at dinner at the Central Hotel by the business men of Maysville were—

Mrs. Nannie G. Faulconer, Superintendent of Schools of Fayette county.

Miss Mabel Robbins, Superintendent of Schools of Bourbon county.

Miss Lida E. Gardner, Superintendent of Schools of Nicholas county.

Mrs. Anna Hamilton, Dean of Women's Department at State University.

Mrs. Josephine Hawkins, Mrs. Mary Vanzand, Flemingsburg.

Misses Armstrong and Moneyhon, German town.

Misses Fields and Moneyhon, Augusta.

T. J. Coates, Rural School Supervisor, Richmond.

R. S. Eubanks, Editor Southern School Journal, Clark county.

Superintendent Wroe, Flemingsburg.

Superintendent Squires, Carlisle.

Mrs. John Drew Better

McLeansboro, Ill.—"About five years ago," says Mrs. John L. Drew of this place, "I was afflicted with pains and irregularity every month. I suffered continually, was weak and despondent, and unable to do my housework. I took arduous and in one month I felt like a new woman and worked hard all summer. I am now in perfect health and recommend Cardui to all suffering women." Every day during the past 50 years Cardui has been steadily working ahead, as a result of its proven value in female troubles. It relieves headache, backache, womanly misery and puts fresh strength into weary bodies. Try it.

The weather: Fair today; Tuesday warmer.

Children Injured

Ordinary Cathartics and Pills and Harsh Physic Cause
Distressing Complaints

You cannot be over careful in the selection of medicine for children. Only the very gentlest bowel medicine should ever be given, except in emergency cases. Ordinary pills, cathartics and purgatives are apt to do more harm than good. They cause griping, nausea and other distressing after-effects that are frequently health-destroying and a life-lasting annoyance.

I personally recommend and guarantee Rexall Orderlies as the safest and most dependable remedy for constipation and associate bowel disorders. I have such absolute faith in the virtues of this remedy that I sell it on my guarantee of money back in every instance where it fails to give entire satisfaction, and I urge all in need of such medicine to try it at my risk.

Rexall Orderlies are eaten like candy. They are particularly prompt and agreeable in action, may be taken at any time, day or night; do not cause diarrhoea, nausea, griping, excessive looseness or other undesirable effects. They have a very natural action upon the glands and organs with which they come in contact, act as a positive and regulative tonic upon the relaxed muscular coat of the bowel and its dry mucous lining; remove irritation, overcome weakness, tone and strengthen the nerves and muscles, and restore the bowels and associate organs to more vigorous and healthy activity.

Rexall Orderlies completely relieve constipation, except when of a surgical character. They also tend to overcome the necessity of constantly taking laxatives to keep the bowels in normal condition. Two sizes of packages, 10 cents and 25 cents. Remember you can obtain Rexall Remedies in Maysville only at my store—The Rexall Store, Thos. J. Chenoweth, Second and Sutton streets.

Here's Something Worth While!

Orders are given. Clear the deck. Make room for the new spring goods. Prices way down, but quality remains at the same high point. After all, it's the price you pay for the garment you get that counts. We know that very often an alluring price leads men astray, but after trying the experiments on their backs they realize that quality is more important than price. In reading these exceptionally low prices remember that these suits and overcoats are the famous guaranteed clothes.

The HIGH COST of LIVING

Has been greatly reduced in thousands of homes intall parts of Uncle Sam's broad domain this winter through the use of

THE PECK-WILLIAMSON UNDERFEED FURNACES AND BOILERS

The reason is plain. Cheapest slack in the Underfeed gives as much clean, even heat as the most expensive grades which ordinary heating plants require. All the fire is on top and has to eat down into the fresh coal underneath against the draft. Combustion is slow and perfect, and smoke, soot and gases are entirely eliminated. This enables Underfeed Furnace and Boiler users to effect an every year saving of 50% to 66%. Why give this good coin to the coal man? Put it in the Underfeed and let
